

DIARY NOTES

DD/S

15 April 1960

1. At the Deputies' Meeting this morning:

a. The question was discussed as to whether CIA should furnish at least one man to the Disarmament Group in the Department of State. It was generally agreed that we did not wish to get more than one senior person over there but that this would be desirable. Bob Amory is to select a man and in all probability it will be [REDACTED]

d. Lyman Kirkpatrick announced that there would be some congressional hearings on "machine translations" sometime soon and stated that we had been asked to appear. It was agreed that [REDACTED] would represent this Agency. (I want to alert [REDACTED] to follow these hearings.)

e. I reported on [REDACTED] efforts to include more Government officials in "Who's Who." The Director thought that this was a very good idea and asked that each Deputy submit recommendations for his consideration. (I have asked Gordon Stewart to take care of this.)

2. Bob Macy, Bureau of the Budget, telephoned about the letter which Mr. Stans received from Congressman Cannon concerning our Fiscal Year 1961 Budget. Specifically, it appeared that we would not be able to carry forward from year to year our unobligated balances. (Ed Saunders and I met with Bob and other representatives of the Bureau at 2:30 p.m., and at 3:30 p.m., with the Bureau representatives, we met with Sam Crosby of the House Appropriations Committee Staff. Sam assured us that they did not intend to change this procedure for Fiscal Year 1961 and also felt that a different wording in the letter from the Bureau requesting that these funds be "reappropriated" rather than "carried forward" would prevent this problem from actually affecting the way pare a Memorandum for the Record of this conversation. I have also briefed the Director on the outcome of our meeting with Sam.)

3. I attended the briefing for the Director in preparation for Tuesday's United States Intelligence Board Meeting at which time "emergency planning" will be discussed. I believe that the recent paper which I submitted on this subject was generally acceptable as a sound CIA position. However, on the whole I did not feel that the Director was wildly enthusiastic about charging ahead with a program for CIA, the Community or on a "go it alone basis."
